

Daniela Vargas Ramírez, Sociologist Specialist in Socio-Environmental Conflict Advocacy and Sustainable Development

Bilingual sociologist from Universidad Javeriana with a focus on sustainable development. Specialist in socio-environmental conflict advocacy from Universidad del Medio Ambiente. Proficient in qualitative and quantitative research methodologies, as well as project monitoring and control. Experienced in coordinating and managing teams, ensuring the achievement of goals and desired outcomes. Recognized for her ability to address and solve complex challenges in sustainability contexts. Currently pursuing continuous education as a writer, enhancing her detailed and creative approach to the projects she leads. Committed to innovation and continuous improvement.